GRAND SIERRA RESORT
RENO, NV

FireShowsWest isn't just one of the longest-running conferences and expos on the West Coast — it's where the fire service comes to level up.

Hosted by the FireShowsWest First Responder Training and Education Foundation, a 501(c)(3) non-profit, the mission is simple: to arm the nation's firefighters with the skills, tools, and knowledge they need to meet every challenge head-on.

In order to effectively serve our communities, the fire service must adapt to the demands of the ever-changing world. Therefore, FSW has arranged its program schedule to ensure that attendees have even more opportunities to fully engage with each core discipline of their choice.

H.O.T. CLASSES

From Eric Wheaton's dynamic Can Confidence course to the high-impact Live Fire Training led by the Nevada State Fire Marshal's Office, you'll have two full days of hands-on training to choose which skills to sharpen. FireShowsWest will provide transportation to and from the off-site training facility, along with lunch and refreshments.

HAZMAT & FIRE PREVENTION

FSW 2025 will focus two days of lecture on the intricacies of HAZMAT and Fire Prevention. Attendees will have the opportunity to learn from seasoned instructors with years of real-world experience in the field and apply their expertise through scenario-based training.

SUPPRESSION

An expanded two-day lecture series will spotlight some of the most influential voices in today's fire service. Hear firsthand from trailblazers like Nick Ledin, Mickey Farrell, and more as they share the real stories, hard truths, and battle-tested lessons that will challenge you to lead with confidence and elevate your performance on the job.
